

Purple Jesters, Liz Davinci

I drove towards the Alps last night
In an old brown Mercedes on the A99
Starry sky backdrop on my right

In my mind your thoughts ricocheted
For a while now they've stuck and stayed
Old leather, coffee and music as I ride
In anticipation on the A99

Those demons and purple jesters
They were screaming
Loud and with pleasure
They surrounded me and circled steadily
I closed my eyes and sang this melody

It wasn't long until I arrived
At an old farmhouse with one outdoor light
Parked the car, grabbed my keys
And made my way
To the room where I planned to stay

Just a bed and a sink I think I'll fade away
To be ready for tomorrow's escapade

Those demons and purple jesters
They were screaming
Loud and with pleasure
They surrounded me and circled steadily
I closed my eyes and sang this melody

Here I am, deep breath
I risk it all
There's nothing left
My heart pounding in my chest
I throw my bag aside
And we progress
This was a silent chase
It was a secret hunt and
Now you even show up with a gun

Those demons and purple jesters
They were screaming
Loud and with pleasure
They surrounded me and circled steadily
I closed my eyes and sang this melody
